About us

Since its foundation in 1906, the French society has been a gathering place for the university's community of French students. It has sought to stimulate the intellectual and cultural curiosities of its student body by encouraging the debate of the social, economic and political issues that have so often divided the French-speaking world.

More recently, the society has aimed to connect its members with a diverse array of companies, so that its members can expand their network beyond their usual student circles. Our members are very interested in networking events as it enables them to discover the range of different opportunities they have after graduating.

Our Events

We organise networking events that bring together our body of student members with exciting companies operating in France as well as in the UK.

We also invite politicians, intellectuals, diplomats and academics to present their ideas on an array of topics that relate to France's rich intellectual and cultural heritage.

In addition, we organise a range of social events to bring together the French community, from our termly cheese and wines to our "French Touch" club nights.

Our reach

We are a dynamic student body made up of more than 200 members.

We have a very strong social media presence, with more than 3,400 Facebook members. Indeed, for our most popular event, our posts were shown to over 38,000 people.

Our social events have regularly attracted 200+ university students, which is testament to our extensive reach throughout the university. Moreover, our most popular talks and debates have attracted as many as 100 of the university's students.

How we use your support

Our society is in part funded by student memberships, but also by our sponsorship initiative. This allows the society to:

- Connect our members with leading corporate institutions
- Provide support to our speakers by covering their travel expenses
- Provide free French lessons to our members
- Organise quality events that bring together the community of French and Francophile students
